Leadership Under Fire

With Dr. Dale Henry

During this program officers will learn: Leadership communication skills and how to cope with stress and to decompress; Decision making strategies to better utilize all alternatives available; Working relationships to better organize teams and individuals to achieve determined goals; Innovation and change to maximize working environments; Leadership integrity and vision to help move departments to meet new ever changing resources; Coaching skills to understand feedback and constant improvement; Understanding the strengths of others and self; and Team development

This is not your normal leadership program. Dr. Dale Henry is an interactive and engaging speaker who uses humor and life situations to keep his audiences engaged. Author of two bestselling books he speaks to and trains over 250,000 individuals a year and presented over 3000 programs for everyone from Harvard to Wal-Mart. Listen to what FBI Director Robert Mueller says, "Dr. Henry is a regular favorite and the constantly highest ranking speaker by our people, if he is not presenting at one of our programs, everyone asks when he is coming back." Don't miss out on Leadership Under Fire. The officers in your department will grow and help those grow around them.
